Description/Profile

Whether you are a large corporation or small business that wants to develop its local market or to export its know-how abroad, Kompass puts a unique worldwide database at your disposal with its international database, prospecting assistance tools and dm solutions.

The file provides an unrivalled access to global business information with over 5 million companies across 66 countries worldwide.

What sets Kompass apart from other suppliers is that they have expert data specialists in each country, collecting and verifying data locally

The data is fully selectable by contact channel, job function, industry, employee size and country.

Whether you need business information for email marketing, telesales, field sales or direct mail, you'll be able to drill down to find exactly the right list of sales leads

Data Quality

The telephone numbers are checked against the Telephone Preference Service and the Corporate Telephone Preference Service.

Ongoing updates are made locally to guarantee that the data is fully compliant.
